

Nick Bonvino, Chief Executive Officer

Nick Bonvino is a seasoned healthcare executive with more than 30 years in the information technology (IT) industry, applying IT-based products and services to enhance the financial, administrative, and clinical performance of healthcare organizations.

In 2014 Nick joined Greater Houston Healthconnect (Healthconnect) as its CEO. Healthconnect is the regional HIE for Southeast Texas and serves 23 counties, 15,000 physicians and 130 hospitals. Under Nick's leadership the HIE doubled its hospital participation, expanded its service area by 15%, and reached financial sustainability one year ahead of schedule. Through the rapid deployment of its interoperability platform, Healthconnect has now connected 490 clinical entities on over 15 disparate EHR platforms. Nick's strategy of integrating deep into clinician workflows has resulted in robust adoption by caregivers across the region.

Nick's leadership has furthered numerous other HIE initiatives in North Texas, Illinois, Florida, New York, and Europe. Nick was National Practice leader for Northside Consulting and CTG prior to joining Healthconnect. He also served as CIO for Triad Health Systems, and led sales divisions for Siemens, EDS, and IBM, where he started as a semiconductor engineer.

He is a frequent presenter on HIT transformation at industry meetings and conferences. Nick has chaired and served on the advisory boards of several healthcare IT companies.

Nick holds a B.S. in Electrical Engineering from Norwich University in Northfield, Vermont and was selected to attend specialized programs at Harvard Business School, Wharton School of Business, IBM Sales & Marketing Education, and EDS Strategic Value Selling.

He is an active member of CHIME (College of Health Information Management Executives) and HIMSS.
