

Clinical Integration

Access a patient's care summary from any participating physician or hospital system

Connecting For A Healthier Community

Clinical integration with the community health record simplifies the sharing of patient information among authorized providers. You can access all community-wide information and images within your EHR's clinical workflow. Your EHR records can remain current by retrieving patient information through patient record query or Direct Messaging between you and your referral partners. Patient information is available across care settings and organizational boundaries.

If you do not have an EHR, you can use any web-enabled computer or device to query patient records anytime via a web-hosted portal. You will find pertinent information about your patients to provide better, more comprehensive care.

Clinical Integration Will Assist Your Practice By:

- Enabling a view of prior patient test and lab results in one location, which helps ensure that time and money is not wasted duplicating efforts
- Providing clinical summaries for your patients' visits to other physicians
- Improving transmission of information during transitions of care
- Assisting to achieve meaningful use compliance
